Thanks to Hasini from Charlottesville for sharing some kind things she has done and noticed others doing during the quarantine!

Something I’ve done kind during quarantine would be: I have recently donated to the cancer foundation of the St. Jude hospital. I’ve realized that many kids are suffering because of this disease and this is the least I could do to help them. I’ve made a birthday card for my mom and made tea for my dad which made them very happy. I’ve also seen that many people in Yemen are suffering. There has been a war going on there which is causing kids and their parents to not have food, water, and shelter. I am hoping to donate there and tell many other of my friends and family to donate there too. Something kind I have seen or heard other people do would be: Our neighbors made a cake for my mom’s birthday and put it on our porch. They were trying to be kind while also trying to be safe. This made my mom happy that she had a cake for her birthday! These are some of the things that I or others have done during quarantine.
